

Performance Improvement and Patient Safety Collaborative
Group Discussion: Meaningful Data Collection, Analysis and Next Steps

December 17, 2013

9AM Pacific—10AM Mountain—11AM Central—Noon Eastern

Description: This will be a collaborative discussion facilitated by Diane Bradley.

Prior to the call please think about the following two questions:

1 – What are the steps you are currently using in your quality process, from identification of priorities to data collection to analysis to implementing improvement strategies?

2 – What are the strategies you are using to get to next steps of Quality Improvement as it relates to providing meaningful information for organizational change?

If you have specific questions – or – you would like to share a best practice, please contact Diane or Carolyn by email prior to the call.

Who should participate: Individuals responsible for overseeing or managing Performance Improvement and Patient Safety initiatives?

Registration: If you would like to participate in this collaborative discussion, please send an E-Mail to Carolyn St.Charles at the e-mail listed below and we will send you the Conference call number and pass code.
